I. INTRODUCTION

1. The annual report of the Secretary-General on the composition of the Secretariat is submitted in accordance with a number of resolutions of the General Assembly, the most recent of which are resolutions 45/239 A of 21 December 1990, 47/226 of 30 April 1993 and 49/222 of 23 December 1994. The purpose of the report is to facilitate an assessment of the distribution of the staff of the United Nations Secretariat by nationality, sex, grade and type of appointment, in the light of the principles contained in the Charter of the United Nations and the guidelines set forth by the General Assembly.

2. The information is provided mainly in the statistical tables inserted throughout its text as well as in those contained in annex I. In addition, detailed information on staff members can be found in the list of staff of the United Nations Secretariat as of 31 August 1996.

3. Information concerning women at the United Nations can also be found in the report of the Secretary-General on the improvement of the status of women in the United Nations Secretariat. A number of statistical tables contained in the present report are also reproduced in that report to facilitate the consideration of the question of women on the basis of a single comprehensive report in accordance with the views expressed by Member States during the deliberations on the subject in the Third and Fifth Committees.

II. COMPOSITION OF THE SECRETARIAT

A. Staff of the United Nations

4. The power of the Secretary-General to appoint staff derives from Article 101, paragraph 1, of the Charter of the United Nations, which states:

> "The staff shall be appointed by the Secretary-General under regulations established by the General Assembly."

5. There are a number of subsidiary organs of the United Nations that enjoy special status granted by the General Assembly concerning the appointment of their staff: United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF); United Nations Development Programme (UNDP); Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR); United Nations Relief and Works Agency for Palestine Refugees in the Near East (UNRWA); United Nations University (UNU); secretariat of the International Civil Service Commission (ICSC); Registry of the International Court of Justice (ICJ); and International Trade Centre (ITC).

Total staff of the United Nations

6. The total number of staff of the United Nations as of 30 June 1996 was 33,157 (see fig. 1), of whom 14,166 were assigned to the Secretariat of the United Nations and 18,991 to the secretariats of United Nations subsidiary organs. As regards funding, 9,196 staff occupy posts financed from the regular budget and 25,749 posts financed from extrabudgetary sources. Further details about the composition of the staff, source of funds, category and related information can be found in table A.

a/ Includes staff charged to UNDP core budget.

b/ Includes funds managed by UNDP and UNDP supplementary funds.

c/ Includes National and/or Field Service officers.

e/ UNRWA has also 19,654 area personnel (38.5 per cent women).

f/ A number of posts in ITC are financed jointly by the United Nations from the regular budget and by GATT/WTO.

Principles governing the recruitment and employment of staff

7. The principles governing the recruitment and employment of staff are derived from Article 101, paragraph 3, of the Charter, which states:

> "The paramount consideration in the employment of the staff and in the determination of the conditions of service shall be the necessity of securing the highest standards of efficiency, competence, and integrity. Due regard shall be paid to the importance of recruiting the staff on as wide a geographical basis as possible."

8. These principles apply to all the staff of the United Nations, including the staff of the secretariats of subsidiary organs with special status in matters of appointment (see para. 5 above).

B. Posts subject to geographical distribution

9. A particular group of staff of the United Nations Secretariat is covered by a system of desirable ranges used as a guideline for estimating the comparative representation of the nationals of each Member State. This system has been established by the General Assembly on the basis of three factors: membership, contribution and population. The staff concerned are referred to as "staff in posts subject to geographical distribution". The special characteristic of this group of staff, who currently number 2,514, is that they are directly appointed by the Secretary-General for at least one year to posts in the Professional category and above.

Staff excluded from geographical distribution

10. There are a number of staff members who are excluded from the principle of geographical distribution. As mentioned in paragraph 5 above, the largest group is composed of staff who do not serve in the United Nations Secretariat but in the secretariats of subsidiary organs with special status in matters of appointment.

11. Within the Secretariat, the largest groups excluded are staff in posts with special language requirements, staff in the Field Service and the categories of locally recruited staff related to the General Service categories (such as Trades and Crafts, Security and Safety and Public Information Assistants). Other groups consist of staff specifically appointed for mission service; staff appointed for service limited to the United Nations Environment Programme (UNEP); to the United Nations Centre for Human Settlements (UNCHS) or for the United Nations International Drug Control Programme (UNDCP); staff appointed to posts financed on an inter-agency basis; technical cooperation project personnel; and National Officers serving at United Nations information centres.

12. Also excluded are staff with appointments for less than one year; staff on special leave without pay; staff on secondment to other agencies; and staff members who are permanent residents in the country of their duty station. Information on the numbers of these groups of staff can be found in annex I, table 1.

C. Representation of Member States

13. The representation of Member States is assessed in conformity with the system of desirable ranges (see annex I, table 4A). Member States fall into four categories, resulting from the comparison of their ranges with the number of their nationals in posts subject to geographical distribution: unrepresented; underrepresented; within range; and overrepresented. 1/

14. As of 30 June 1996, there were 23 unrepresented Member States, as compared with 25 on 30 June 1995. They were: Andorra, Azerbaijan, Bosnia and Herzegovina, Brunei Darussalam, Democratic People's Republic of Korea, Kazakstan, Kuwait, Kyrgyzstan, Liechtenstein, Maldives, Marshall Islands, Federated States of Micronesia, Monaco, Palau, Republic of Moldova, San Marino, Sao Tome and Principe, Solomon Islands, Tajikistan, the former Yugoslav Republic of Macedonia, Turkmenistan, Uzbekistan and Vanuatu.

15. On 30 June 1996, there were 22 underrepresented Member States, as compared with 25 on 30 June 1995. They were: Albania, Angola, Armenia, Bahrain, Belize, Comoros, Djibouti, Guinea-Bissau, Italy, Japan, Lao People's Democratic Republic, Latvia, Mozambique, Norway, Panama, Qatar, Samoa, Saudi Arabia, Slovenia, South Africa, Suriname and United Arab Emirates.

16. The changes in the representation of Member States may result not only from the appointments and separations from service of staff but also from such other factors as the adjustments of the desirable ranges resulting from an increase or decrease in the number of posts subject to geographical distribution, changes in the number of Member States and variations in the assessed contribution of individual Member States or in their population, as well as from changes in the status of some staff members (consequent upon such actions as movements between geographic and non-geographic posts, departures on secondment or special leave without pay, returns from secondment or special leave and changes of nationality).

17. The evolution in the comparative representation of Member States in geographic posts over the period from 30 June 1992 to 30 June 1996 is illustrated in figure 2.

D. Groupings of Member States

18. In conformity with the request of the General Assembly in resolution 45/239 A, most of the tables contained in annex I to the present report are arranged first by country, in alphabetical order, and then by major geographical region. The composition of each region is shown in annex II, table A, to the report. Table B in the text shows the number of Member States in each geographical region arranged by degree of representation during the period 1992-1996.

19. Information concerning the representation of developing and other countries is shown in table C, which shows the situation each year during the five-year period from 1992 to 1996. In accordance with past practice, ad hoc desirable ranges for developing countries and other countries have been established by totalling the desirable ranges of all countries in each group.

20. The first column of text table C indicates the group and the second column the year. The third and fourth columns show the combined desirable ranges and mid-point for each group. The fifth column shows the percentage of posts corresponding to the mid-point of each group. The remaining columns show the actual numbers and the percentage of posts encumbered by nationals of countries members of the group at various levels: all staff in the Professional category and above, staff at the D-1 level and above, staff at the D-2 level and above, and staff at the assistant secretary-general level and above. The figures in parentheses show the situation of women. In estimating the representation of each group, due account is taken of the actual percentage of posts encumbered by nationals of countries in the group as compared with the percentage established by reference to the mid-point of the group's ad hoc desirable range.

E. Representation of developing and other countries among staff at the senior levels (Principal Officer (D-1) level and above)

21. In resolution 45/239 A, the General Assembly requested the Secretary-General to take every available measure to ensure, at the senior and policy-formulating levels of the Secretariat, the equitable representation of Member States, in particular of developing countries and Member States with inadequate representation at those levels, in accordance with the relevant resolutions of the General Assembly, and to include relevant information in future reports on the composition of the Secretariat.

22. The representation of developing countries and other countries at the senior and policy-formulating levels during the period from 1992 to 1996 is shown in table C. More detailed information on the representation of Member States at these and other levels can be found in table 4 in annex I to the present report.

Representation in the upper echelons (assistant secretary-general and under-secretary-general)

23. In the same resolution, the General Assembly requested the Secretary-General, in order to preserve the principles of equitable geographical distribution and rotation in the upper echelons of the Secretariat (assistant secretary-general and under-secretary-general levels), to ensure that equal opportunity is given to candidates of all Member States when making appointments to all posts in the upper echelons.

24. During the period under review, nationals of Brazil, China and Ghana were appointed.

F. Representation of women

25. At its forty-sixth session, the General Assembly adopted resolution 46/100 of 16 December 1991, on the Improvement of the Status of Women in the Secretariat.

26. At its forty-fifth session, the General Assembly had adopted resolution 45/239 C of 21 December 1990 on the same subject. In that resolution, the Assembly urged the Secretary-General to continue his efforts to increase the number of women in posts subject to geographical distribution, in particular in senior policy levels and decision-making posts, in order to achieve an overall participation rate of 30 per cent by the end of 1990 and, to the extent possible, 35 per cent by 1995, taking into account the principle that the paramount consideration shall be the necessity of securing the highest standards of efficiency, competence and integrity with full respect for the principle of equitable geographical distribution.

27. In the same resolution, the Assembly also urged the Secretary-General, all things being equal and to the extent possible, to accord priority to the participation of women at the D-1 level and above with a view to increasing the participation rate of women in posts at the D-1 level and above to 25 per cent of the total within the overall participation rate of women in 35 per cent of posts subject to geographical distribution by 1995. Efforts made during the period from 1 July 1992 to 30 June 1996 led to an increase of 60 per cent in the representation of women at the D-1 level and above.

28. In the same resolution, the General Assembly reiterated its request that the Secretary-General make every effort to increase the representation of women from developing countries, in particular at the D-1 level and above.

29. The efforts to meet the requests of the General Assembly concerning women continue. As of 30 June 1996, the number of women in geographical posts was 882, or 35.1 per cent. Table 3A in annex I shows the distribution of men and women by region and level.

30. The evolution of the proportion of women in geographical posts between 30 June 1992 - when it was 30.6 per cent - and 30 June 1996 is shown in text table D. That table also shows women staff for each region as percentages of all staff (table D.1) and as percentages of women staff only (table D.2).

31. The number and percentage of women in geographical posts and in posts with special language requirements on 30 June 1986 and on 30 June 1996 are shown in text table E. The percentage of women in geographical posts has risen from 24.7 per cent to 35.1 per cent over the period. The percentage of women in language posts has moved from 33.1 per cent to 36.3 per cent over the same period.

G. Recruitment activities

Appointments to posts subject to geographical distribution during the period from 1 July 1995 to 30 June 1996

34. In resolution 45/239 A, the General Assembly urged the Secretary-General, when making appointments at all levels to posts subject to geographical distribution, to make every effort to recruit nationals of unrepresented and underrepresented Member States, bearing in mind also the need to increase the number of staff recruited from Member States below the mid-point of their desirable ranges.

35. During the reporting period (1 July 1995-30 June 1996), 129 appointments were made to posts subject to geographical distribution. 2/ Of these, 5, or 3.9 per cent, were of nationals of unrepresented Member States; 20, or 15.5 per cent, were of nationals of underrepresented Member States; 99, or 76.7 per cent, were of nationals of within-range Member States; 5, or 3.9 per cent, were of nationals of overrepresented Member States. 3/ Further details concerning the number and levels of these appointments can be found below and in table 6 in annex I to the present report.

National competitive examinations

36. Appointments to posts subject to geographical distribution during the reporting period included those of 32 candidates who were successful in national competitive examinations for posts at the P-2 and P-3 levels. They were selected through examinations held in Armenia, Botswana, Bulgaria, Dominica, Ecuador, El Salvador, Germany, Grenada, Haiti, Italy, Japan, Namibia, Pakistan, Paraguay, Portugal, the Republic of Korea, Saint Kitts and Nevis, Spain, the United States of America and Venezuela.

37. These appointments account for 24.8 per cent of all appointments to posts subject to geographical distribution during the reporting period. They included 14 women, representing 43.8 per cent of these appointments.

38. Seven women candidates were recruited at the P-2 levels outside the context of national competitive examinations.

39. Competitive examinations for posts at the P-2 and P-3 levels were also held in Belize, Estonia, Gabon, Georgia, Germany, Japan, Latvia, Liechtenstein, Lithuania, Mauritania, Micronesia (Federated States of), Mongolia, Paraguay, Slovenia, Spain, Suriname, Turkmenistan and Viet Nam. A number of successful candidates in these examinations are currently under recruitment.

Recruitment of women

40. Between 1 July 1995 and 30 June 1996, 55 women were appointed to posts subject to geographical distribution, representing 42.6 per cent of the 129 appointments made during the reporting period. Women from developing countries accounted for 25 appointments, that is to say, 45.5 per cent of the 55 appointments of women made during the reporting period.

Notes

1/ Member States are unrepresented when none of their nationals is in a post subject to geographical distribution; underrepresented when the number of their nationals in these posts is below the lower limit of their ranges; within range when the number of their nationals in these posts is within the limits of their ranges; and overrepresented when the number of their nationals in these posts exceeds the upper limit of their ranges.

2/ In the compilation of statistics for the present report, an appointment to a post subject to geographical distribution is understood as the granting to a staff member of an appointment for one year or more, either through initial or other recruitment involving service for at least this period; or through the completion of at least one year of service in such a post.

3/ The figures cited in this paragraph are computed on the basis of the degree of representation of each Member State at the end of the previous reporting year, on 30 June 1995, as communicated to the General Assembly in the latest report of the Secretary-General on the composition of the Secretariat (A/50/540). Although the fluctuations in the representation of Member States during the reporting year are not directly taken into account in this computation, they are estimated monthly and used in monitoring geographical distribution and in planning recruitment.

FINANCING OF THE UNITED NATIONS OBSERVER MISSION IN LIBERIA

Report of the Advisory Committee on Administrative and Budgetary Questions

1. The Advisory Committee on Administrative and Budgetary Questions has considered the report of the Secretary General of 4 September 1996 containing the revised budget of the United Nations Observer Mission in Liberia (UNOMIL) for the period from 1 July 1996 to 30 June 1997 (A/50/650/Add.4). During its consideration of the report, the Advisory Committee met with representatives of the Secretary-General, who provided additional information.

2. UNOMIL was established by the Security Council in its resolution 866 (1993) of 22 September 1993 for an initial period of seven months. Its mandate has since then been extended and adjusted by subsequent resolutions of the Council, the latest being resolution 1071 (1996) of 30 August 1996, which extended the mandate of the Observer Mission until 30 November 1996.

3. As indicated in paragraphs 19 and 20 of the report of the Secretary-General, total resources made available to the Observer Mission, from its inception on 22 September 1993 until 31 March 1996, amount to $101,512,300 gross. Estimated expenditures total $80,939,000 gross and credits returned to Member States amount to $20,573,200 gross. Furthermore, $79,134,808 has been assessed on Member States from inception to 31 March 1996, contributions received amount to $68,212,035 and outstanding assessments were reduced by $163,022 in accordance with General Assembly resolution 50/83 of 15 December 1995. The Advisory Committee was informed during its deliberations that the shortfall of $10,759,751 indicated in the report had been further reduced to $10.5 million as at 20 September 1996.

4. The previous report of the Advisory Committee on the financing of UNOMIL, (A/50/922), was introduced by its Chairman to the Fifth Committee, in the context of a rapidly changing situation in the area of operations. The General Assembly therefore requested the Secretary-General to submit revised cost estimates for the period from 1 July 1996 to 30 June 1997 in its decision 50/482 of 7 June 1996. It also authorized the Secretary-General to utilize the resources available for the period up to 30 September 1996, should the Security Council decide to extend the mandate of the Observer Mission beyond 31 May 1996.

5. The revised cost estimates presented in the report of the Secretary-General (A/50/650/Add.4) were thus formulated on the basis of Security Council resolution 1071 (1996) and reflect the downward revision in resource requirements for UNOMIL, in line with the reduction in the operations and strength of the Observer Mission recommended by the Secretary-General in his previous report to the Security Council (S/1996/362) of 21 May 1996.

6. In accordance with paragraph 5 of Security Council resolution 1071 (1996) the Secretary-General is requested to report to the Council by 15 October 1996 with proposals for assistance that UNOMIL or other United Nations agencies could provide in support of the Liberian peace process, including support for the election process, disarmament, demobilization and verification of compliance by the factions. As indicated in paragraphs 15 to 17 of the Secretary-General's report, resource requirements for the overall disarmament and demobilization programme will be presented at a later stage, with the exception of the deployment of a disarmament adviser to assist the Military Observer Group (ECOMOG) of the Economic Community of West African States (ECOWAS) and UNOMIL with regard to logistics requirements for the preparation for disarmament of the factions. Plans for humanitarian assistance and resource requirements for the electoral component of UNOMIL will also be presented in future.

7. Against this background, the Advisory Committee was informed, upon inquiry, that a technical mission was being dispatched by the Department of Peacekeeping Operations on 22 September 1996 in order to conduct a survey of the needs and cost implications for a revised concept of operations, taking into account the developments taking place in accordance with the new programme of implementation of the Abuja Agreement, as contained in the final communiqué signed by the Heads of State and Government of ECOWAS on 17 August 1996 (S/1996/679, annex). The new programme of implementation provides, inter alia, for the disarmament, demobilization and repatriation process to take place between 22 November 1996 and 31 January 1997, culminating on elections on 30 May 1997 and the new Government being sworn in on 15 June 1997. It also provides a mechanism to ensure strict compliance with the peace plan. It is evident that there will be no further deployment of staff or provision of additional resources unless the process moves forward.

8. Under the circumstances, it is the view of the Committee that the revised estimates presented in the report of the Secretary-General may be revised once again subject to further decision of the Security Council on the new concept of operations.

9. The revised estimates presented in the report for the period from 1 January to 31 June 1996, amount to $14,512,800 gross ($13,630,800 net). This estimate is $13,102,300 gross lower - a 47 per cent reduction - than the previous cost estimate of $27,615,800 gross ($25,852,600 net) submitted in the report of the Secretary-General of 12 March (A/50/650/Add.3), the decrease being due primarily to the reduction in the strength of the mission and the non-implementation of the disarmament and demobilization programme. The breakdown of the revised estimates for the period from 1 July 1996 to 30 June 1997 is presented in annex I of the Secretary-General's report (A/50/650/Add.4), along with supplementary information contained in its annex II.

10. However, the Advisory Committee was informed during its hearings that the cost of maintaining UNOMIL for the same period had been further reduced to $14,016,000 gross ($13,186,800 net). This reduction of $496,800 gross ($444,000 net) is due to adjustments to the deployment schedule for military and civilian personnel. Estimated requirements for military personnel are based on the deployment of 34 military observers. Therefore, the cost estimate contained in annex I of the Secretary-General's report (A/50/650/Add.4), under item 1 (a), Military observers, subtotal, should now read $1,273,200. The Committee was informed upon inquiry that, as at 18 September, 10 military observers were on board.

11. The cost estimates also provide for 43 international civilian staff and 47 local staff, as indicated in paragraph 26 of the Secretary-General's report, including a disarmament advisor at the P-4 level who will assist UNOMIL and ECOMOG to prepare for the disarmament process. The Advisory Committee was also informed that, as at 18 September, 30 international civilian staff and 38 local staff had been deployed. Item 2 (A/50/650/Add.4, annex I), Civilian personnel costs, subheading (b), International and local staff, subtotal, should therefore now indicate $5,832,000. Item 19, Staff assessment, should consequently be amended to $829,200, as well as item 20, Income from staff assessment, which should read $829,200.

12. The updated revisions to the cost estimates for these items mentioned in paragraphs 10 and 11 above, in addition to a table indicating the planned deployment dates for additional personnel to UNOMIL, are presented as annexes I and II to the present report.

13. Of the total revised budget for the period from 1 July 1996 to 30 June 1997, a total of $1,020,100 is estimated for non-recurrent costs. As indicated in paragraph 23 of the Secretary-General's report, that amount relates primarily to the replacement of equipment lost or stolen during the outbreak of fighting in Monrovia in April and helicopter services for the movement of personnel and logistics resupply flights during the month of July 1996.

14. The Advisory Committee requested an inventory of the stolen or lost equipment. However, it was informed that only a preliminary list was available at the moment. A final version will be presented in the context of the performance report for the period from 1 July 1995 to 30 June 1996, which is due during the current fifty-first session of the General Assembly. The Committee also notes that in paragraph 8 of its resolution 1071 (1996), the Security Council not only condemns the looting of equipment, supplies and personal property, calling upon the leaders of the factions to ensure the immediate return of looted property, but also requests the Secretary-General to include in his report to the Council, quoted in paragraph 6 above, information on how much of the stolen property has been returned.

15. A breakdown of non-recurrent items is provided in annex II.C of the Secretary-General's report. However, the Advisory Committee cautions that the information provided under current inventory clearly does not reflect the reality of the situation. Upon inquiry, the Committee was informed that many of the items enumerated in the current inventory column are either missing or not in usable condition. They have been maintained in the inventory pending processing by the Property Survey Board. The Committee agrees to the replacement of those items subject to verification in the current inventory that those items are unusable.

16. An amount of $807,800 for claims and adjustment is also included under item 10, Supplies and services. As indicated in paragraph 4 of annex II.D this amount is to cover the costs of claims arising from the outbreak of fighting in Monrovia and throughout Liberia, during which UNOMIL personnel suffered losses of their personal effects during evacuation procedures. Upon inquiry, the Advisory Committee was informed that, as at 20 September 1996, 161 claims had been received by UNOMIL for losses suffered by military and civilian personnel. Total claims, amounting to $807,361, consisted of $537,230 claimed by 93 military observers, $207,150 by 46 international civilian staff and $62,981 by 22 United Nations Volunteers. These claims are yet to be reviewed and finalized by the local claims review board.

17. The Advisory Committee also inquired regarding the limit for loss or damage to personal effects attributable to service. In this regard, the Committee was informed that the guidelines governing the limit of claims for personal losses are set out in document ST/AI/149/Rev.4 of 14 April 1993. These guidelines provide for a maximum allowable compensation for claims in respect of any one incident of $12,000 for a staff member without dependants residing with him or her at the duty station and $20,000 for a staff member with dependants. These provisions exclude claims for an automobile and its accessories which are treated separately.

18. Paragraph 28 of the report of the Secretary-General (A/50/650/Add.4) outlines the actions that would need to be taken by the General Assembly at its fifty-first session in connection with the financing of UNOMIL. The Advisory Committee recommends approval of the Secretary-General's proposal that the General Assembly appropriate the amount of $12,169,600 gross ($11,838,800 net) already assessed under the terms of Assembly resolution 50/210 of 23 December 1995. The Advisory Committee also recommends appropriation of $14,016,000 gross ($13,186,800 net) for the 12-month period from 1 July 1996 to 30 June 1997 (see para. 10 above), which is equivalent to a monthly rate of $1,168,000 gross ($1,098,900 net), subject to the extension of the mandate of UNOMIL by the Security Council and the decision to be made regarding a revised concept of operations in line with the new programme of implementation of the Abuja Agreement. It is evident, in this case, that the Secretary-General will submit revised cost estimates to the General Assembly to include resource requirements for the overall disarmament and demobilization programme, humanitarian assistance and electoral component of the Observer Mission.
